DiscussIT Topic 6: Where is our country headed?

Discuss IT Topic: Over the last week, our country has had growing concerns on immigration bans, border safety, and executive orders that remind us of issues that have been plaguing our country for years. Now that Trump has been elected President, there has been people threatening to blow up the White House, human right protests, and a plethora of other sensitive subject matters that are very compelling to individual groups of people. Why have these issues come up now as we head into a time in which it seems no one is going to be happy with the outcomes? Will this create a split in this country and place citizens against one another when it comes to their views? In your opinion, what other topics are at the forefront of concern? Explain...

Response: Please make sure all grammar, spelling, indentation, and punctuation is correct.

I think Global Warming should be our concern instead of who is president and what he is going to do, we should be focusing more on what we are doing to the planet and how we are hurting it and our future. The Earth is where we live and if we keep burning down forests or getting rid of wild life there won't be any left and if there isn't any animals or plants we will die because that is our source of food and energy, without we cannot survive. We are having protests for dumb reasons when we have more important things going on like Global Warming which is a much more important topic in my opinion. Global Warming is also melting the polar ice caps and in the near future most of Florida won't even exist because we are at sea level and not above like most states.
